

SPEECH OF KAISER IN THE REICHSTAG

ANXIOUS ONLY TO RESTORE PEACE IN CHINA.

Punishment Must Be Dealt Out to the Chief Culprits Implicated in the Recent Rebellions and Outrages—German Parliament Opened Its Session Today.

Berlin, Nov. 14.—The Reichstag opened her today. Contrary to expectations the emperor in his speech from throne announced that the bill containing the new customs tariff as a base for new commercial treaties would not be introduced in the federal council this winter. This means that the reichstag won't consider the bill the present session. The Kaiser's reference to the co-operation of the troops in China and a statement that German industry had found much acknowledgment in the Paris exposition were loudly applauded.

Referring to China the Kaiser said: "As to Peking, the sons of all nations have fought shoulder to shoulder and as their standards there now float side by side, so the governments are animated by one wish to restore an ordered state of things as speedily as possible, and after the punishments of the chief culprits to avert a recurrence in the future of the peace of the world."

DALY'S FORTUNE GOES TO WIDOW

Funeral Will Take Place Tomorrow from the Catholic Cathedral—Villard Funeral Today.

New York, Nov. 14.—Marcus Daly's great fortune amassed in the mines of Montana, is to go to his widow, to be held by her in trust for the four children, Margaret, Mary C., Harriet and Marcus Jr., the 17-year old son. Just how much the dead millionaire left has not been figured, but it is estimated to those familiar with his affairs to be not less than $40,000,000.

The funeral arrangements have been completed. The body will be taken to St. Patrick's cathedral tomorrow morning, where a requiem mass will be celebrated. Then the body will be taken to St. Ignace's, where it will be placed in a temporary receiving vault. It will finally rest in an imposing mausoleum.

Many telegrams and letters of condolence were received today by Mrs. Henry Villard at Thornwood Park, Dobbs Ferry. The funeral of Mr. Villard will be held at the house this afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. Reverend Theodore C. Williams of Tarrytown will officiate. The burial will be in Sleepy Hollow cemetery.

BRUSSELS WILL WELCOME KRUGER

Port Said, Nov. 14.—The Dutch cruiser Gelderland with Kruger on board arrived at noon at Suez. She is due here tomorrow.

Brussels, Nov. 14.—Five hundred and fifty societies are cooperating in an address to Kruger on his arrival. He will be in a procession in which ten thousand will take part.

NATIVE CONVERTS ARE THREATENED

Hongkong, Nov. 14.—Placards posted at Patshan say that the native converts must report before November 20 or their chapels will be burned and the converts killed.

MANY SHIPS ARE WRECKED.

Fierce Gale Sweeps English Channel—Loss of Life.

London, Nov. 14.—A fierce gale swept over the English channel last night, causing a number of wrecks, including the Hildegarde, bound for Shields, near Weymouth. There were no fatalities.

The Ketch Georgina was lost off Hayling Island. All on board were drowned.

The Hildegarde mentioned in the above dispatch is probably the British steamer of that name. She is of 1,139 tons and was built in 1886 at Newcastle. She is 262 feet 4 inches long, has 36 feet 2 inches beam and is 25 feet 6 inches deep. She is owned by Dunford & Elliott of Newcastle.

Hayling Island is off the south coast of England, in Chichester harbor, near the island of Portland. Off the south coast is an extensive shoal.

Steamer Angelo Towed Away.

London, Nov. 14.—The Wilson line steamer Angelo, bound from Christiania, Norway, for Hull, which went ashore Sunday night near Withersea, off the Yorkshire coast, and all of whose passengers and crew were rescued, has been floated and towed to Grimsby roads.

FORUM PLANS NEW SOCIETY.

Defunct Fraternal Order Re-organizes Under Another Name.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—Representatives of twenty subordinate lodges of the defunct Home Forum Benefit order, representing over 1,000 members, met last night at 109 Washington st. and took preliminary steps toward the organizing of the American Fraternal League, a new fraternal insurance society.

An attempt was made lately by President Dr. P. L. McKinnin of the defunct Home Forum Benefit order to transfer its membership to an eastern concern, with himself remaining the president and manager, owing to the order having gone into the hands of a receiver with liabilities over $300,000. The membership in other states has signified its intention to join the movement started by the Chicago membership last night as soon as they are fully organized.

Girls' School Burns Down.

Roahe, Va., Nov. 14.—The Virginia college for young ladies was totally destroyed by fire this morning. No lives were lost.

SAYS C. K. DAVIS CANNOT RECOVER

Minnesota Statesman May Survive for a Few Days, But Death Cannot Long Be Delayed.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 14.—United States Senator Cushman K. Davis can survive but a few hours at the most. Dr. Murphy of Chicago, who was summoned to St. Paul as consulting physician, says that he has practically abandoned hope of the senator's recovery.

Dr. Murphy stated that acute inflammation of the kidneys had set in, and that he had but little hope that his distinguished patient would live until the end of the week. Senator Davis' death, he said, may be looked for at any moment, although it is possible that he may survive for two or three days.

The gravity of Senator Davis' condition has produced an atmosphere of the deepest gloom at his residence in Farrington avenue. His wife, his aged parents and his two sisters all realize fully the probability of the fatal result, and that in a few days. The senator is not cognizant of the extreme seriousness of his own condition, although he is, of course, aware that he is being treated for another and possibly more serious ailment than that with which he at first contended.

M'GOVERN WINS IN THE SIXTH ROUND

"Kid" Broad Terribly Battered and Almost Unconscious When Bout Is Ended.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—Terry McGovern pounded "Kid" Broad into everything except insensibility in a six-round battle of the bloodiest, fiercest nature at Tattersall's last night, and got the decision at the end of the sixth. Broad, covered from head to foot with his own gore, was reeling about the ring or clinging to McGovern's body, in blind determination, when the gong ended the slaughter.

It was no play for the cyclone of fists from Brooklyn. It was the toughest and most wavering battle that he was ever engaged in. The champion of all the little men was knocked down by a clean blow in the first round. In the second he received a terrific punch that put him to his knees. Then after two rounds of cutting vicious blows, McGovern again turned loose with vicious attacks. He pounded Broad's body and head until it seemed that no man of flesh could stand the grueling.

A BARABOO STOCK MAN IS MISSING

Went to Meet a Customer and Filled in the Time Fishing—May Have Fallen in the River.

Baraboo, Wis., Nov. 14.—Daniel Holcomb, a well known stock dealer of this place is missing. Yesterday he drove to Newport, ten miles north of here, to meet a man of whom he had bought some cattle. He put up at the summer home of Mr. Kerfoot, and as his man had not arrived he borrowed a fishing rod and went to the Wisconsin river, which is only a few rods distant.

He did not come home last night as expected but no uneasiness was felt by his friends. As he did not arrive today his brother-in-law, Fred Couch, drove to Newport, where he found the team still in Kerfoot's barn, but no trace of Holcomb could be found. His footprints were followed to the river and the place was found where he had fished.

The river is very high and the current swift and it is supposed that he fell in and drowned. Others however believe that there was foul play as he carried considerable money with him.

SOPHS ABDUCT A BUS LOAD OF GIRLS

RESCUE OF FAIR PRISONERS BY VALIANT JUNIORS

Female Freshmen Inveigled Away by Beloit Students—Others Are Escorted to Banquet Hall by Police—Boys Play High Jinks in Line City Last Night.

Beloit, Wis., Nov. 14.—The annual banquet of the Beloit college freshmen was held last evening, but one bus load of young women did not arrive till late, and a number of young freshmen, deprived of their partners, suffered many heartaches and misgivings.

The banquet was given at a hotel and the freshmen succeeded in dogging the hostile sophomores and getting there on time. Many of the more timid ones went early in the afternoon to avoid abduction. Meanwhile the thirty-five young women who were to grace the occasion with their presence had congregated at a near-by residence, where they prepared for the function, sturdy policemen patrolling the vicinity to see that none of them was kidnapped by the sophomores who were out in full force.

When the time came to begin the banquet it was discovered that one bus load of the young women had been stolen. They had fallen into the clutches of the sophomores. Through the interference of the juniors who had pledged themselves to stand by the freshmen and act as escorts to the girls the bus load of freshmen girls were intercepted on the outskirts of the city and the fair prisoners were escorted to the hotel under police protection. They were received with a great demonstration on arriving at the hotel.

During the evening some freshmen girls were persuaded to ride in a hack under the belief that it was furnished by the freshmen class. It proved however that the sophomores were in charge of the hack, and the young women were driven to the outskirts of the city, far from the hotel, and detained by the sophomores until rescued by the juniors who followed in a carriage. The banquet then progressed as planned, and is pronounced a great success.

Riddled With Bullets.

Fifty Bodies Recovered.

Hong Kong, Nov. 14.—The bodies of fifty victims in the recent typhoon have been recovered.

MAY FISH ON SUNDAY

Lake Geneva Episcopal Rector Says in His Sermon That Busy Men Need Recreation.

Lake Geneva, Wis., Nov. 14.—"If a man is busy and occupied supporting himself during the six days of the week set apart for labor and has no time to fish, it is right for him to go fishing on Sunday, providing he has done his duty to his Maker by attendance upon divine service at some place of worship."

Rev. I. N. Marx, rector of the fashionable Episcopal church of this place, startled his hearers by making this announcement from his pulpit in the course of his Sunday sermon. The men of his congregation, which comprises the wealthiest and most exclusive families of Chicago who have summer villas at the Lake, sat up straight in their pews and listened with all their ears. As everyone knows, the placid waters of the lake contain various kinds of fish that are always ready to rise to the hook of the skillful angler, and there is nothing more tempting on a Sabbath day than a row boat and a trolling hook.

Many of the millionaires work hard all of the week and then seek Lake Geneva for rest and recreation on Sunday. No one labors more diligently than a millionaire, and no one is more in need of relaxation. It was no wonder then, that those who had kept their summer villas open through October in order to enjoy the autumn glories of the woods and fields took an unusual interest in what the minister had to say.

"When a man can fish any and all of the six days of the week, it is wrong for him to do so on Sunday," said Mr. Marx, looking down on the millionaires. "Fishing is an innocent pastime. We make it sinful when we indulge in it to the neglect of any duty or responsibility, or when we forget our religious obligations. Fishing would be sinful on Monday or any other day if a man neglected the vocation by which he gained a livelihood for himself or family."

"The church makes a mistake when it relegates to the devil so many of the good things of man's brain and ingenuity," concluded Mr. Marx.

CHINA IS NOW IN A SERIOUS DILEMMA

CANNOT RESIST OR COMPLY WITH DEMAND OF POWERS.

Chinese Nation Unwilling to Execute Princes and Generals Designated by the Representatives of Other Countries—Progress Being Made in the Settlement Negotiations.

Peking, Nov. 14.—The Ministers held another meeting today and consulted over the wording of the draft of the demands that are to be presented to the Chinese representatives. There were no serious disagreements, and substantial progress was made. Another meeting will be held tomorrow. Up to the present time it is not known whether the declaration of the Dowager Empress that General Tung Fu Hsiang will not be punished will cause any change in the article of the draft of the demands in regard to the punishment of high Chinese officials and Princes who were responsible for the Boxer outrages. A high Chinese official said today that if the powers insist on the condemnation and punishment of all those named in the original list, eleven Princes and Generals, it will be impossible for China to agree to this, even if she were willing to do so. China will no doubt agree that the foreigners shall hold the forts and military posts. She will also not object to the maintenance of legation guards, the payment of indemnities, and the prohibition of further importation of arms, but it will be impossible to carry out the death punishment, except in a few cases, even though China may agree to do so. It is thought here that China will follow the same tactics which she pursued during the negotiations with Japan at the close of the war with that country. After the receipt of the Japanese proposals at that time China presented counter propositions which Japan declined to entertain and gave the Chinese a few days to agree to the original suggestions.

Defeats for Boxers.

London, Nov. 14.—A dispatch from Tien-Tsin, dated Saturday, says the Russians have captured an arsenal northeast of Yangtsun. Two hundred Chinese were killed. A French force has engaged the Boxers south of Peking. Many villages were burned. The French had three killed.

CHALLENGE IS SENT TO NORTHWESTERN

King Wants the Evanston Team to Play Madison Boys at Milwaukee, Nov. 24.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 14.—A game between Northwestern and Wisconsin is now probable. King has sent a challenge for Nov. 24, and it is to Northwestern to say whether it comes off. If it does it will probably be played in Milwaukee. It is settled that the Thanksgiving game with Illinois will be played here. There is talk of challenging Iowa for a game after Thanksgiving, but this is not believed to have gone beyond the stage of talk as yet.

Secret practice every day and signal practice in the gymnasium every evening indicate that Phil King is drilling his football team in some new formations, with which it is hoped to penetrate Chicago's line on Saturday, but the public and especially those most interested, will have to wait until Saturday to see what new plays are developed.

GRAND STAND FELL; TWELVE ARE KILLED

Coast Wine of High Grade.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 14.—The Chronicle says: "Quality rather than quantity characterizes the dry wine vintage of 1900. The production will be about the same as that of last season, but the high standard of 1893 will be attained."

"The best authorities agree in placing the amount of wine fermented as from 13,500,000 to 15,000,000 gallons of dry varieties and 7,000,000 gallons of sweet. Grape growers both in dry and in sweet wine districts had a profitable year."

HONORS AN AMERICAN WOMAN

Kaiser Asks Widow of Baron Von Ketteler to Visit Him.

New York, Nov. 14.—According to a dispatch from Berlin to the Journal and Advertiser, the Kaiser has just given further evidence of his regard for Baron von Ketteler, who was assassinated in China, by inviting the ambassador's American widow to Germany, in order that he may express to her his keen appreciation not only of her husband's services but also of the courage and gallantry which she herself displayed throughout the terrible siege of the legations.

It is said that the Kaiser, besides vesting the widowed baroness with the Order of Louise, of which the empress is grand mistress, will offer her a pension and create her a countess in her own right. It is probable that the baroness will also be offered the title of lady in waiting to the empress. She is certain to be overwhelmed by court government, society and the people with tokens of kindly sympathy and regard.

SENATOR SPOONER IS A FAVORITE

Wisconsin People Want the Senator to Serve Another Term—Talk of Stout.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 14.—J. T. Barber of Eau Claire, a leading lumberman, who was a delegate to the republican convention at Philadelphia, says he believes that nine-tenths of the republicans of Wisconsin want Senator Spooner to be a candidate for reelection, but that the senator has given good reasons for declining the offer.

Should he go to the senate again he would be 66 years of age at the close of his term, and too old to resume an active professional life to win the fortune that he has lost in serving his country.

Mr. Barber says that it is Senator Spooner's desire to resume the practice of law, and to give his sons a start, which he will be unable to give them if he continues in the service of his country. Mr. Barber, believes, however, that the senator may be prevailed upon to reconsider his decision to retire, but if he does not he thinks the state could do no better than to elect as his successor J. H. Stout of Menominee.

"Mr. Stout is a millionaire lumberman and a philanthropist; a sound business man, but not an orator who would shine as Senator Spooner shines, yet who would be a credit to his state."

While in the east recently Mr. Barber discovered, he says, how fully the people of the whole country appreciate Senator Spooner's ability. He hopes to see him re-elected.

Mr. Stout is not a candidate according to a telegram sent by him to a Milwaukeean yesterday.

TALK OF SUCCESSOR FOR DALY

Presidency of the Amalgamated Copper Company Has to Be Filled.

New York, Nov. 14.—The Journal of Commerce today says: "Marcus Daly's connection with the copper interests of the country is widely known. With J. B. Haggin he owned a controlling interest in the great Anaconda mine until it was turned over to the Amalgamated Copper company last year. The value of his holdings in Anaconda at the time the transfer was made was estimated by some at considerably in excess of $10,000,000. It was the opinion of copper men generally that Mr. Daly's death would have little effect upon the interests of the Amalgamated Copper company. His long illness had practically forced him out of the active management of the company for many months. The stock of the company advanced over two points in the early dealings, though reacting somewhat later."

"Nothing definite as to the successor of Mr. Daly as president of the company was obtainable, but it is the opinion of many that H. H. Rogers, vice president of the company, will fill the position. According to some accounts, the Standard Oil interests will take care of the Daly interests."

Secretary Root in Cuba.

Havana, Nov. 14.—Secretary Root arrived here last night and was received by Governor Wood. This morning he took a yacht trip east ostensibly for fishing but the Cubans think differently.

M'KINLEY INVITES CABINET TO REMAIN

RUMORS OF CHANGES SET AT REST BY THE PRESIDENT.

Love Feast at the White House.—The Executive Declares That the Election Was No Personal Victory, But an Indorsement in Which All Must Share.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 14.—President McKinley put a quietus upon cabinet-making gossip by inviting every member of the present cabinet to continue in his present position throughout the next administration. When the cabinet assembled yesterday Mr. McKinley made one of the graceful speeches for which he is noted in which he asked the members of his official household to remain in the next cabinet, saying that they were entitled to share fully in whatever credit was derived from the election of last Tuesday.

The president said that the members of the cabinet had co-operated with him fully during the arduous work of the past four years, and that the most kindly feeling had existed in the family circle of the administration. He referred to the existing harmony and to the lack of ill-feeling in any direction whatever. The president expressed a dread of entering upon another term of office unless he could have about him the members of his present cabinet. Then he renewed his invitation to his advisors to remain in their positions.

Only One Change Likely.

This graceful but unexpected speech touched all of those present and Secretary Hay was the first to respond. He said that he was sure that every member of the president's official household highly appreciated the sentiments of the president and would not leave so harmonious a cabinet if he could remain.

Secretaries Gage, Hitchcock, Wilson, and Attorney General Griggs each made short speeches in the same vein, but no formal acceptances were made. Notwithstanding this, as already outlined in these dispatches, it is quite certain that there will be but one change made in the president's cabinet. Attorney General Griggs in all probability will be the only member of the president's official household who will not serve through the next administration.

Forecast of President's Message.

The cabinet meeting was devoted largely to the discussion between the president and his advisors of his forthcoming message to congress. Each of the members furnished a forecast of his annual report, but none of the reports were in shape for a formal presentation. It was practically decided that the recommendation in the message on the subject of the war revenue taxes will advocate a small reduction, scaling down the total revenue about $15,000,000. Just where this decrease will be made has not been determined.

Considerable attention will be devoted to the Nicaraguan canal in the message, but the president's recommendations are not as yet clearly formulated.

VERY SHARP RISE IN DAIRY PRODUCTS

Holders of dairy products have realized handsome profits by the rise in prices since the re-election of President McKinley was accomplished a week ago, and if present conditions continue much longer there is practically no limit to the heights to which butter and eggs may rise prior to the holidays. Butter has been advanced three cents a pound during the past week, an advance of two cents being recorded today, while eggs have advanced four cents during the same period under the influence of a brisk demand, aided by light offerings of strictly fresh stock, the cold weather having placed a quittance on the laying capacity of the hens. The supply of fancy makes of butter is so small that dealers find it extremely difficult to fill orders, and no difficulty is experienced in disposing of all varieties since the scarcity of the best qualities became so pronounced.

A Hundred Milk Dealers Arrested.
Chicago, Nov. 14.—One hundred dealers in milk and cream who have depots in the northwestern part of the city have been arrested on the complaint of T. F. Grady, superintendent of the milk bureau, for failure to take out the required license.

COSTS $156 PER YEAR
TO KEEP PAUPERSANNUAL REPORT OF TRUSTEES OF THE ALMS HOUSE.

Administration of the New Superintendent Pleases the Board Very Much—Inmates of the Asylum Numbered 139 in September—Property Estimated to Be Worth $165,922.21.

The report of the board of trustees of the Rock county insane asylum and poor house for the year ending September 30, presented to the board at its annual meeting yesterday, shows:

There has been a slight decrease in the number of patients cared for during the past year, owing to the death of a few of the aged inmates of the asylum, causing a corresponding loss in the earnings of the institution.

There has also been a slight increase in the per capita expense over last year owing to the increased price paid for help in the institution and on the farm, the less number cared for and the increased cost of groceries, provisions, clothing and other articles used and consumed.

The farm and garden have yielded an abundant crop of grain and vegetables.

The stock on the farm is in good condition. During the summer the wood-work on the outside of all the brick buildings has been painted at a cost of $270.

The new building that was reported as unfinished a year ago has been completed at a cost of $304.80.

The management of the institution under new administration is very satisfactory to the board of trustees, who do not make an overstatement when they say that. The attending physician, the matron and the employees have all united with the superintendent and all have been untiring in their efforts in maintaining that high degree of discipline for which the institution has been noted in the past, and in keeping those unfortunates under their charge as contented and happy as such people can be made.

The following is a statement of the financial condition of the institution for the year ending September 30, 1900.

Receipts from all sources, $24,084.69; disbursements, $16,222.93; balance in treasury on October 1, $7,861.76.

The cash earnings of the institution as shown by the superintendent's report are: $15,767.12; cash expended for maintenance, $15,918.05; excess of expense over earnings, $105.93.

From this statement it will be seen that the asylum can no longer be considered a money making institution. So many new asylums have been built in the past few years that we cannot get the number of outside patients that we have had in the past, but we shall be able to care for our own insane at a minimum cost.

The total cost of the farm and improvements to October 1, 1900 has been $151,193.16. The total population of the asylum on September 30, 1900, was 139.

The number of patients in the alms house on Sept. 30, 1900, was 53. The cash expense of keeping the patients per capita for the last year was $156.

Milk, butter, beef, poultry, eggs, vegetables and fruit of a cash value of $4,495.45 have been produced on the farm and consumed by the inmates, and of which no account is made in making up the per capita cost of maintenance, for the reason that the cost of producing this crop has already entered into the expense account.

The physician, Dr. J. F. Pember, reports that during the past year that there has been but ten deaths among the insane and eleven among the departments.

The inventory of the institution shows: Real estate, 380 acres of land and the buildings thereupon, $151,193.16; total personal property, $14,729.05; $165,922.21.

PREPARE TO SEE
METEORIC SHOWERS

The Heavenly Display Will Come on
Nights of November 15 and 16
About 3 O'clock.

While the meteoric shower scheduled for this week comes a little late to be made use of by the republican national committee as a fireworks display to celebrate President McKinley's election, it will probably be all the more interesting because of its non-partisan character.

Persons wishing to see the shower must prepare to sit up late on the nights of Nov. 15 and 16, for it is during that interval that the earth will pass through the region of space in which these countless millions of particles of mysterious origin are flying. They will appear to come toward the earth from the constellation Leo, hence their name of Leonids, and the display should begin about half an hour after midnight. Those desiring to get the full benefit of it, however, should be awake at 3 o'clock for at that the shower will probably be at its maximum.

Leo can easily be found, for the pointers of the Great Bear, or the "Big Dipper," as it is called, point southerly to its brightest star, Regulus, about 45 degrees to the south. The Leonids will radiate from a point to the northeast.

While the sight is a beautiful one to watch, it is practically valueless from an astronomical point of view. Nevertheless many cameras will be in readiness, and if the astronomers are not disappointed, as they were last year by dense clouds, some interesting pictures should be obtained.

JUDGE H. C. SMITH
MADE GOOD RECORD

Janesville Man Re-elected Circuit Court Judge at Helena, Mont.—Given High Praise by a Newspaper.

Janesville men are making good records in all parts of the United States. Every little while some Janesville man is put into a position of trust or re-elected to some office solely on account of his sterling worth. The latest Janesville man to be re-elected to a position of public trust in a distant state is Judge Henry C. Smith of Helena, Montana. Judge Smith was formerly a member of the law firm of Fethers, Jeffris & Smith, and was one of the brightest young lawyers in this part of the state at that time. He had a fine legal mind and always paid close attention to business. He was always on the lookout for the best interests of his clients. After leaving this city he went to Helena, Montana, where he entered upon the practice of his profession. He was not long in winning the recognition in legal circles due him and four years ago was elected circuit judge at Helena. He was a candidate for reelection at the present election and received a handsome majority. The Helena Independent, a paper of democratic principles, in speaking of the reelection of Judge Smith, republican, says:

"If anything were needed to prove, in addition to the general result in Lewis and Clarke county, the grim determination of the people to rebuke the attempt of the Standard Oil and Amalgamated Copper trusts and their hired men in trying to gain political control of the state and the county governments, it is the election of Judge Henry C. Smith.

It is no reflection upon Mr. Hepner that Judge Smith was elected. Judge Smith was not elected because he is a republican. The fact that he is a party man did not help him. On the other hand, it hurt him with those who do not know him.

Judge Smith was elected, first, because he is a clean man and a just judge; and second, because throughout the campaign he avoided the Kerosene as a man avoids the plague.

It would have required an overt act on the part of Judge Smith to make the people of Lewis and Clarke county believe that he had any sort of sympathy with the Kerosene-Carter crowd, and Judge Smith is too clean a man to risk his good name for the price of an election.

Judge Smith's reelection is a proof that the people of this county not only wanted no Kerosene on the bench, but that they did not want any of it in any office.

Judge Smith would have committed political suicide had he shown by word or act that he had any part or lot with the infamous gang that tried to get political control of Montana.

In this case virtue got its full reward.

AMES VS. SAWYER
SUIT AT ROCKFORD

Trade of a Livery Stock for Some Nebraska Real Estate Has Caused Litigation.

M. O. Monat, of the firm of Fethers, Jeffris & Monat, has been in Rockford the last two days attending the trial of the case of Ames vs. Sawyer. H. S. Ames, who runs a livery stable on Bluff street in this city, entered into a deal with Sawyer, in which he was to give Sawyer, his livery stock and some cash for 180 acres of land along the Missouri river in Nebraska. Sawyer represented to Ames that the 180 acres were high and dry lands, never overflowed by the river, and capable of raising large crops. There were also 600 acres of meandered land lying between the 180 acre tract and the river, which would go with the 180 acre tract, if Ames would settle with some squatters who had located on it.

Ames went out to Nebraska and examined the land at a time of the year when the river was low and on his return made the trade. The next time he saw the land was when the river was high, and he found the land overflowed. He tried to make some deal with the squatters on the meandered land, which was covered with timber, and was threatened with violence and driven off by the squatters.

He returned home immediately and repurchased the livery stock which had been removed to Rockford, on the ground that it had been obtained through misrepresentation. This is the action that is now on trial in Rockford.

Rice Trust Is Lunched.
Chicago, Nov. 14.—The American Rice Growers' Distributing company has been incorporated, with a capital stock of $15,000,000, of which $7,500,000 is said now to be paid in. John W. Gates is said to be back of the organization. The plan of the company is to contract for the entire southern rice crop at a fixed price for the period of four years, with an option to extend the contract for a second four years thereafter. The present market price of rice is $3.25 to $3.45 on No. 1 Honduras; $3 to $3.25 on No. 1 Japan, and $1 to $1.60 on red or "rosy" rice. The new company will contract for a slight advance on the present prices. Mr. Gates is now out of the city. His main interest in the scheme is thought to be the control of the shipment of rice over lines in which he is interested.

Price of Salt Is Advanced.
Chicago, Nov. 14.—Salt goes to $2.50 per 100 pounds. This is the price fixed by the National Salt company, known as the salt trust. Before the organization of the company and the development of its control over the output salt sold at $1.10 per 100 pounds. The so-called trust now controls immediately 95 per cent of the production. The remaining 5 per cent is said to be controlled indirectly, so that the whole market is dominated by the company. Producers outside of the combine are offered more for their output than they can procure from individual jobbers and middlemen.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

In another column will be found a decision from Judge Carter, published in the Chicago Tribune of last Sunday. It has to do with the liability of property owners on street paving contracts, and will be read with interest just now by Janesville tax payers, who are called upon for heavy assessments to meet similar improvements.

It is gratifying to know that while thousands of dollars have been wasted on city streets during the past decade, that the work in progress now is intelligently planned, and to a casual observer is being well executed; and yet it is so easy to spend other people's money, especially on public improvements, that it rarely if ever happens that careful economy is enforced.

The property owner, on a street that is undergoing extensive improvements, is absolutely powerless after the work begins. However much he may be interested, and however much the establishing of a grade may injure his property, he is not consulted. The quality of the work may be poor or good, that does not concern him; he must foot the bill and be satisfied.

A case in point is just now going on in the grading of Court street. The Court street church property has a frontage on this street, of something like 150 feet. A good stone curbing was in position on what was supposed to be the street line, and a sidewalk built with reference to it. Some wise man, whose name has not yet come to the surface, discovered, in squinting down the street that the curbing, to be scientifically arranged, should be set out in the street four inches and so it was torn up and reset, damaging the sidewalk and of no earthly benefit to the street. A little common sense would have suggested that the curbing be let alone, and the church would have been saved from fifty to one hundred dollars in needless expenditure.

There are doubtless other cases of similar inconsistency, endured quietly by patient tax payers, who have discovered that complaints are useless. If the responsibility is with the city engineer, he should be given a little latitude by the common council, so that he would be free to exercise ordinary common sense.

There are some technicalities about street grading and work that when literally enforced become absurd, and the man who pays the bills has a right to complain.

That Janesville has long needed good streets is not a debatable question, and that the work now being done is generally recognized as good is also admitted; but there should be thrown around this work all the safeguards possible, in the interests of the men who pay for it.

GOV. SCOFIELD'S RETIREMENT.

Governor Scofield will retire from office in January with a record of which any man might be proud. His administration has been not only clean and wholesome, but it has been marked for intelligence and a grasp of the business situation, not often displayed by a chief executive. With a quiet dignity that has always commanded respect, he has gone about his work with the same practical business methods that characterize his life. Finding a depleted treasury not fully recovered from democratic misrule, he had the courage to place facts fairly before the people, and they responded to his call, having full confidence in his integrity and ability. He leaves the office with a solvent treasury and with the finances of the state on a sound business basis.

He possesses another quality not always prominent in officials, and that is backbone. He is a man of convictions and of positive character, and the solicitation of friends, or the persistence of a legislature, has never caused him to waver from a sense of justice as he understood it. His veto was a check to foolish and extravagant legislation at times when he stood between the law makers and the people.

On questions of finance and state policy he has been clear and emphatic, and the people have profited by his intelligent and business like methods.

The Gazette voices a popular sentiment throughout the state in saying that Governor Scofield has given the state an exceptional administration, noted for good hard common sense applied in practical ways for the benefit of the people.

The stillness that has settled over the land since election is oppressive. If people were not so all-fired busy they would be lonesome. This prosperity business is a great panacea for the blues. Everybody is compelled to take a dose of it whether they want to or not.

They want to or not. It's worse than compulsory education for a boy, you can't run away from it.

More young men will have an opportunity to enter the naval academies, as the navy is so short of men that it is difficult to officer new battleships when they are ready for service.

Mr. Bryan was regarded by England as a pure, high minded politician, until he formed an alliance with Croker. The latter gentleman has been abroad and didn't bear acquaintance.

Lord Salisbury is being criticised by his own people for pessimistic notions. He imagines all sorts of complications for England in the near future.

The noble red man is holding his own numerically and he only cost the government $400 a head to support last year.

JUDGE CARTER'S RIGHTEOUS DECISION.

Judge Carter has decided that property owners cannot be compelled to pay for a street improvement not made according to the specifications of the ordinance and contract. At present most special assessments are collected on the installment plan. As a consequence, a pavement is laid long before the property owners have finished paying for it. If the work is badly done, through the dishonesty of contractors, connived at by city inspectors, it is certainly an injustice to the property owner to make him pay the remaining installments of his assessment. He has not been given the value of his money. He has been robbed through the forms of law.

On of the lawyers from the corporation counsel's office argued that the remedy for a property owner who discovers that contractors and inspectors are cooperating to defraud him is to madamus the city officials to compel them to require the work he has been assessed for to be done according to specifications. This is a singular argument. It is an admission on the part of the municipal authorities that their inspection system cannot be depended on; that property owners must not rely on them for the proper execution of contracts, but must go into the law courts to defend interests which should be cared for by the municipal government. It should not be necessary to madamus city officers to make them perform their plain duties. Officers who ask to be madamused are not fit to hold office.

The case which Judge Carter has just decided is to be carried up to the Supreme Court. If his decision is not reversed, and there is no equitable reason why it should be, the pavement contractors may find themselves in a predicament. When they have finished a job they are paid in special assessment bonds most of what is coming to them. Those bonds, which are payable out of the proceeds of the later installments of assessments, are disposed of by the contractors to bankers. The latter in turn, sell many of them to small investors. If there is a fear that contractors will not do their work well and that objecting property owners will defeat or delay the collection of most of their assessments, the bonds given to contractors may not be quite so marketable as they are now. But should that be the case the contractors will have none but themselves to blame. If they find themselves in a bad plight they will be no worse off than property owners have been for years. They have been forced to pay for cheap and nasty pavements, which they have seen go to pieces in two or three years, an amount of money which should have procured them long-lived pavements.

It is about time to admit that Chicago property owners have some rights which should be safeguarded by their city government, which is created for that purpose. They should not be compelled to go into court to resist the collection of special assessments, the proceeds of which are to be used to pay for bad work. They should not be asked to madamus city officials to perform the duties they were elected or appointed to attend to. They should not be asked to become amateur pavement inspectors while the city is paying men out of the sums collected from property owners who are supposed to have experience to act as inspectors. They pay for honest and competent inspectors and should have them. They do not because there is too much politics at the City Hall and too little regard there for the rights of citizens. There is need of a change.—Chicago Tribune, Nov. 11.

ELBERT HUBBARD IS WELL RECEIVED

Head of the Roycroft Society Draws a Big Audience at the Congregational Church.

A large crowd assembled at the Congregational church last evening to hear Elbert Hubbard of the Roycroft society of East Aurora, N. Y. The speaker created a good impression on his hearers and was one of the most interesting talkers that has appeared in this city for some time.

His general appearance is suggestive of the Quaker. He has the appearance of being both gentle and firm. His speech was interspersed with quaint remarks that kept his audience in smiles and his earnest way held them to the end. His talk on the Roycroft society was extremely interesting.

The Roycroft society is located at East Aurora, about twenty miles south of Buffalo, N. Y. Prettily nestled among the picturesque hills of the Empire state, where has grown up a manufacturing institution, as near the ideal co-operative society of the present age as is possible.

The principal products of the concern are books and magazines, patterned after the bookmaker's product of three and four hundred years ago. These books sell at from $100 to $150 each and find a ready sale as fast as they are produced. The society has woodworking and iron working departments, the products of which are patterned after something old and quaint. These all find a ready sale among the well to do who are ever ready to take the goods as fast as they are turned out.

Nothing of cheap designed construction is made, and all the work is hand-made, each person striving to the utmost degree to produce desirable and durable articles.

Those books selling at from $100 to $200 each are produced by boys and girls from the farm and village but possessed of native ability.

In this great institution using four buildings for its work the doors are never locked, and nothing has ever been stolen from amongst its treasures, yet amongst the employees are several who have served time in prison.

The employees enjoy many liberties not granted in other productive concerns. There are no superintendents and bosses. Love is the governing influence and merit and ability are fully recognized.

Resolution to That Effect Passes the County Board Now in Annual Session by a Vote of 18 to 17—Proceedings of the Board Yesterday Afternoon and Today.

The annual session of the county board of supervisors was called to order at ten o'clock this morning in the county clerk's office by Chairman J. L. Bear. Clerk Starr called the roll after which the board took up the business for the day.

The report of the building committee No. 7 was received and adopted. Supervisor Bailey from committee No. 7, on public buildings presented a report from the Architect Conover of Madison concerning the acoustic properties of the county court rooms which was received and placed on file.

The special order of business for eleven o'clock was a resolution presented by Supervisor Cunningham in regard to building an addition to the county hospital for the insane which was as follows:

That there be and there hereby is levied the sum of four thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary to be used in the construction and fitting up of a hospital at the county asylum under the direction and supervision of the trustees.

The resolution was carried by a vote of eighteen to seventeen. The vote was a tie and Chairman Bear's voting in the affirmative carried it.

On motion of Supervisor Livermore the board adjourned until 1:30.

Lowered Janesville $50,000.

The county board at their meeting this afternoon took up the minority report of the board of equalization which was offered as a substitute for the majority report presented by Almeron Eager yesterday afternoon and made a special order of business for two o'clock today.

Spirited addresses were made by Almeron Eager and A. C. Powers in favor of the majority report and equally strong ones were made by J. J. Cunningham, F. F. Livermore and Simon Smith in favor of the minority.

A vote was taken on the minority report which was carried by 21 to 17. A vote was then taken on the original question as amended by the minority report and was carried by a vote of 21 to 17.

By adopting the minority report the assessed valuation of Janesville was lowered fifty thousand dollars. Beloit was raised one hundred thousand, Edgerton five thousand, Evansville five thousand and Clinton was lowered ten thousand. The report as adopted is as follows:

Report of the Committee.

"Your committee on equalization have had under consideration the county assessment for the year 1900, and as a minority report of said committee hereby recommend as a basis of taxation the valuation of the county of Rock, at eighteen million ($18,000,000) to be divided among the towns, cities and villages as follows, to-wit:—"

Avon.....	$ 251,000	Nowark.....	$ 380,000
Beloit.....	446,000	Plymouth.....	510,000
Bradford.....	688,000	Porter.....	570,000
Center.....	624,000	Rock.....	530,000

FURNACE IS BOXED WITH PINE BOARDS

THE RESULT WAS AN ALARM OF FIRE THIS MORNING.

DeGroat's Candy Store and Ice Cream Parlor Scorched — Only Damage Done Was to the Wooden Covering of the Furnace—Prompt Work of the Firemen.

An alarm of fire turned in this morning from box 31 located at the corner of South Main and Court streets called the fire department to the store occupied by P. F. DeGroat as a candy store and ice cream parlors. The rooms in the second story are occupied by W. B. Harvey and family.

The store is heated by a furnace located in the basement. This furnace had been boxed in by pine boards protected by a layer of asbestos paper. The morning being rather cold a hot fire was started in the furnace, which set fire to the pine covering.

When the department arrived dense volumes of smoke poured from the front door of the store giving the impression that the whole interior of the building was in flames. It was found that the smoke came up through the register located in the center of the store. The trouble was soon located and extinguished, and the only damage done was to the covering of the furnace.

It was a fortunate thing that the fire occurred in the day time for had it happened at night it might have been more serious.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Not wishing to be misrepresented by our would-be-competitors, I wish to state that we are not here today and gone tomorrow, having lived in Janesville for the past four years, doing a large business in pianos and organs throughout southern Wisconsin; and in order to further advance my interests in this vicinity, the factory sale now in progress is the only genuine sale. As dealers doing business through jobbers and middlemen, cannot sell at factory prices, as I buy direct from the largest manufacturers in the world. I will do exactly as I advertised, and will knock off my entire profits for two weeks, and continue the big factory sale. We are not imitators but originators and promoters of honest goods at honest prices.

CONTEST OVER WILL OF MRS. SARAH BELL

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
MAKES A CLAIM.

Judge Sale Decides Against the Mission People Because of Uncertainty As to the Meaning of the Bequest and Held That the Will Was Void—Suit is Instituted.

Judge Dunwiddie of the circuit court is engaged in hearing an appeal from the county court in the matter of the will of Sarah Bell deceased.

Mrs. Bell, formerly resided in this city and upon her death left property to the value of twelve or sixteen thousand dollars. Her will was contested in the county court by the heirs at law. Judge Sale held the will to be void.

One clause in the will gives to James Hume all the household goods, furniture, silverware and movables. The administrator of the Hume estate claimed that the word movables included all notes and mortgages and that the other legacies should be paid out of the real estate. Judge Sale held that the clause gave only the household goods and like character.

Under the will the real estate was given to the United Presbyterian church for home and foreign missions. This clause Judge Sale held to be void on account of uncertainty and decided that the estate should go to the heirs at law.

The board of Foreign Missions for North America appealed from the decision rendered by Judge Sale claiming that such board was interested as the beneficiary named as the United Presbyterian church for Home missions. Under a recent decision of the Supreme court on the question of wills the questions in this case are of much importance.

Charles E. Pierce appears for Walter Alexander, E. D. McGowan for Jane and Thomas Oliver, heirs at law. Fethers, Jeffris and Mount for W. H. Blair, executor of the will of James Hume. Sutherland and Nolan for the Presbyterian church. Whitehead and Matheson for the administrator with the will annexed.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

WAS CUBA'S WARM FRIEND.

Death of Captain John D. Hart,
Famed as a Filibuster.

WENT TO PRISON FOR HER SAKE

Landed Men, Arms, Ammunition and Supplies for Insurgents Under Names of Spanish Officials—Paroled by President McKinley When War Broke Out.

Philadelphia, Nov. 14.—In the death of Capt. John D. Hart, who died here today as the result of apoplexy, one of the most picturesque figures of the sea dropped out of sight. Hart was the owner of two small vessels, the Bernadia and the Laurada, and during 1893 they made frequent trips to the Cuban coast loaded with arms and munitions. Spain naturally made protest, and, being a friendly nation, and the United States not having recognized the belligerency of the insurgents, this country was obliged to put a stop to the proceedings, and various fast cruisers of the navy were assigned the task of capturing the fleet-footed little craft. Capt. Hart was a keen and experienced mariner, his heart and soul were in the Cuban cause, and as he was a fine, manly fellow in every way, the efforts to catch him were not viewed with the utmost satisfaction by his friends. However, as Hart was clearly violating the laws of the United States, the government officials did not rest until they had the plucky captain and his elusive vessels safely in custody.

Capt. Hart was the commander of the Laurada—named after his two daughters, Laura and Ada—and after a lengthy trial in the United States court for the eastern district of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia, was found guilty of violating the neutrality laws in connection with filibustering expeditions to Cuba. In March, 1897, there having been some delay subsequent to conviction, he was sentenced by Judge Butler to two years' imprisonment and $500 fine, with costs, the latter amounting to about $5,000. It was not until a year later that he was sent to prison, the Eastern state penitentiary of Pennsylvania being selected for his incarceration, and June 9, 1898, he was paroled by President McKinley, having served less than four months of the sentence imposed.

Hart was one of the old-time heroes of the sea—brave, daring, generous, sentimental and reckless to the point of foolhardiness. He was a native of Accomac county, Virginia, and was in the forty-first year of his age at the time of his death; of magnificent physique, his strength was such as to cause him to be feared and respected by all with whom he came in contact. He took to the sea as naturally as a duck to the mill pond, and succeeded his father in the fruit business in Baltimore in 1832. He was not a good tradesman, however, and failed in the enterprise; then he came to Philadelphia, starting in the West India fruit trade in 1837, with headquarters here. Finally he purchased the steamer Laurada and commanded it himself; as time went on he secured interests in other vessels and began to accumulate some wealth.

But Capt. Hart was not altogether commercial; in fact, sentiment was a predominating characteristic, and as the insurrection in Cuba progressed, it attracted his attention and at length aroused his sympathies to the fullest extent. He removed to Camden, N. J., at which point he fitted out the Laurada to carry an expedition to Cuba in the interests of the insurgents. His work was done so secretly that it was some time before the United States authorities were given notice of it; and, apart from that, the Spanish officials, both in Cuba and in this country, heard nothing regarding it until long after Hart had landed scores of men, hundreds of rifles and tons of powder and other munitions of war on the Cuban coast right under their very eyes.

London, Nov. 14.—Under date of Johannesburg, Nov. 12, Lord Roberts telegraphs to the war office as follows: "Rundell reports skirmishes with small parties of Boers in the Harrismith, Reitz and Vredodistricts recently. The commandos appear to be acting independently and with no object except to give as much annoyance as possible to the British. Our casualties in these skirmishes were two killed and seven wounded. Douglas arrived at Ventersdorp Nov. 11 from Zerst, capturing during the march twenty-one prisoners and a quantity of cattle and sheep. Ventersdorp, which has been a depot of supplies for the Boers, will now be cleared out."

CUBANS DROWN FROM SCOW.

American Officers Display Courage in Going to the Rescue.

Havana, Nov. 14.—A city scavenger scow was wrecked off Cabanas and four Cubans were drowned. The captain and engineer of the towboat, Teresa, both Spaniards, have been arrested on the charge of inefficiency, neglect and cowardice, and Captain Young, captain of the port, has asked that they be indicted for manslaughter. The Teresa had two scows in tow. One of them, with fifteen men aboard, parted her hawser. The other was towed into Havana by the Teresa. When Captain Young as informed from Morro that the other scow was in a dangerous position he ordered the Teresa to go out. The sea was heavy. The Teresa started, but turned back. Captain Young, in an open launch then went to the rescue, but was nearly swamped off Morro. The scow went on the rocks. Lieutenant Falk and Lieutenant Gill, with soldiers of the 2d artillery, saved eleven men.

WIN STRIKE BUT GO OUT.

Santa Fe's Western Employees Idle Hour And a Half.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—Eleven hundred station agents and telegraph operators employed on the Santa Fe railroad system west of Albuquerque, N. M., went on a strike at noon (Chicago time), and in spite of efforts directed from this city tied up all traffic on the far western division for an hour and a half. The brief strike won for the employees demands for which they have been fighting for six weeks. The increase in wages allowed will aggregate $20,000 a year. Eight hours' rest is guaranteed out of each twenty-four. During the interval between the time the men left the telegraph keys and before they went to work there were exciting scenes in the Chicago offices of the Santa Fe railroad on the eleventh floor of the Great Northern Building. At 11:55 a. m., five minutes before the hour for which the strike was called, J. M. Barr, Third Vice-President of the Santa Fe, informed M. M. Dolphin, President of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, that the company would grant the men's demands. President Dolphin hurried to the train dispatcher's room next door and started to send a message to Albuquerque calling the strike off. He had sent three lines of the message when the clock struck 12 and the keys became silent.

Every operator on the line, from Albuquerque, N. M., to Los Angeles, Cal., a distance of 888 miles, had left his post of duty and business in that territory came to a standstill. Passenger and freight trains stopped at points where dispatchers' messages were expected, but not found. Dolphin and the railroad people, finding the strike on in spite of them, hurried to the Western Union Telegraph building, and after an hour and a half Dolphin succeeded in reaching the representative of the order of telegraphers at Needles, Cal. To him he sent the following message: "Call strike off. The railroad company has acceded to the demands of the men. Use your utmost influence to get men back to their places and to re-establish traffic at all points." But the men at the other end of the line refused to accept the message. "How do I know you are Dolphin?" he queried. President Dolphin sent back the secret sign of the order and then the answer came "O. K." That practically ended the strike.

Sales of public lands in Hawaii said to be illegal.

BLOOD

We live by our blood, and on it. We thrive or starve, as our blood is rich or poor.

There is nothing else to live on or by.

When strength is full and spirits high, we are being refreshed, bone muscle and brain, in body and mind, with continual flow of rich blood. This is health.

When weak, in low spirits, no cheer, no spring, when rest is not rest and sleep is not sleep, we are starved; our blood is poor; there is little nutriment in it.

Back of the blood, is food, to keep the blood rich. When it fails, take Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil. It sets the whole body going again—man woman and child.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York.

No tongue can tell what I have endured in the past ten years with my monthly sickness. While suffering untold agony, a friend called and recommended Wine of Cardui. I sent for a bottle, and Oh! what relief. After the first dose I began to feel better and have had no pain since.
MRS. GRACE LAMPERE.

Wine of Cardui not only cures but it acts AT ONCE. Here is a case of ten years' standing, and yet one single dose made the sufferer feel better, and stopped the pain. The Wine goes straight to the seat of the trouble. It acts directly upon the menstrual and genital organs. Its action is not violent, and it does not force a result. It simply gives Nature that little assistance that the sufferer's system lacks. A single disorder in the feminine organs spreads many disorders all over the body, and when the Wine cures the source, all the other ills vanish as a matter of course. A woman can be her own physician and cure herself at home. Local examinations are largely things of the past—the obnoxious custom is no longer necessary. Wine of Cardui is the only perfectly safe and sure vegetable Wine made to-day for the cure of "female troubles".

A FURNITURE TALK.

BY MAUD BAUME ROBINSON.

What Mrs. Parvenue Learned About House Furnishings At a Sewing Shop.

When Mrs. Parvenue alighted from her imposing equipage and entered the doorway of Messrs. Up to Date's furniture shop, it was with the firm intention of fitting the new house on Fifth avenue in a truly palatial manner. "I want the very best and the latest," she announced to the obsequious salesman as they took the elevator for the top floor.

"Yes, madam, and I presume you will wish to choose your hangings and wall paper first and your furniture afterward?" he asked as they found themselves in a room filled with all sorts of draperies and soft, silky stuffs.

"That's a good idea," drawled Mrs. Parvenue. "I hadn't thought of that before."

He rapidly unrolled several patterns of wall paper and laid them before her. One had a white glaze ground with old rose stripes and little Dresden bouquets of roses. A second represented a flight of tiny blue butterflies on a Persian background of varying shades of delicate yellow and buff. A third had a tied effect with rather stiff little Watteau figures scattered over the surface.

Mrs. Parvenue made a sudden movement toward a widely striped pattern of different shades of red. "I'll take that," she said decidedly.

"That is a last year's pattern, madam. Narrower stripes are taking the place of the wide ones, and the bright shades are giving way to pastel tints, pale blue, pink and yellow, pastel greens and blues."

"Why, that's just like in dress!"

"Certainly, madam. Dress and house furnishings should go together."

After Mrs. Parvenue had been shown some rich hangings of mirror velvet with a design of beautifully shaded blue poppies on an iridescent green ground she reluctantly gave up the red paper.

"Here is one of our newest designs for dining room and library," said the salesman as he opened a roll of what appeared to be tapestry. It was paper, however, so cunningly devised as to defy the closest observation, and it represented Arcadian scenes. "It takes four rolls to paper a room of ordinary size, and each roll has a different figure, so your wall has the effect of being laid in panels."

"But I thought the all white dining room was the latest!"

"We have the white brocade if you wish to follow that fad; but, I assure you, it gives a very cold effect, and the style will not last for that reason."

After Mrs. Parvenue had left her order they proceeded to the next room. "Now, I want the very handsomest brass bedstead you can find," she began.

"There is a return to wooden beds," the salesman put in mildly. "That one behind you is one of our latest."

"What! That colorless white wood! Why, I wouldn't give it house room!"

"That is white mahogany, madam, and a single small bed costs $400."

"Um-m! It doesn't look like it."

"We have some very stylish sets in birdseye maple, in white and blue enamel, in white and green enamel!"

"I want something richer."

The salesman thought a moment. "I have the very thing for you," he suddenly exclaimed, "a new mahogany set we received last week. It costs $1,700."

It was a truly regal bed that Mrs. Parvenue gazed upon. Every inch was covered with rich satiny carving. "It's rather quiet, but I'll take it since it's the best you have," she said.

"For your library of course you want Flemish oak," remarked the salesman as he pulled forward a handsomely carved settle with old rose velvet cushions and showed her also heavily carved tables and spindle backed chairs of the same rich wood.

"And my dining room?"

"You couldn't do better than to have it of Flemish oak too. It is all the rage. I can show you some very rare pieces. Now, here is a Welsh dresser. It is used instead of a sideboard."

What Mrs. Parvenue saw was a tall table surmounted by a three storied rack for plates. On each end of the table was a boxlike arrangement with a cover which lifted and disclosed grooves into which knives and forks could be fitted. The fronts of these boxes were inlaid with delft scenes, and the effect of the blue and white upon the black was very artistic. "The price is $65, and I can show you a table and chairs to go with it." He pushed forward a plain square table with square legs set in like posts and a heavily built chair with flat crosspieces forming the back and the same quaint Dutch legs.

Mrs. Parvenue uplifted her chin. "That will do for a studio," she said. "But you can just make up a lot of white furniture for my white dining room and leave the seats and backs of white carved leather."

"You will certainly furnish your drawing rooms with 'Art Nouveau' pieces."

"What's that? French?" demanded Mrs. Parvenue suspiciously.

"It is both French, English and German. The best 'Art Nouveau' pieces are no doubt made in Germany. The term simply means the new art, and it indicates a complete revolution in furniture. It is based on natural lines. The legs of the tables and the arms of the chairs are imitations of stems and branches and the brass and green copper handles twigs and sprays of leaves and flowers. It is a return to nature."

"I notice most of it is inlaid."

"Yes, and there is another new idea. Formerly only a limited number of woods were used for inlaying. Now any wood is used which will set off the floral pattern and make it look like nature. Observe the panel of this work table, for instance, the yellowish brown flag lilies inlaid on satinwood."

"I had thought of something rooco."

began Mrs. Parvenue timidly.

"The ornate French styles are quite passe. If you do not care for the 'Art Nouveau' furniture, I can show you some colonial styles."

"But my grandmother has some chairs just like that, and, as for that table, we had one in the garret much bandsoner."

The salesman's eyes showed interest. "If you have any old pieces, I advise you to use them by all means. Antique furniture is all the style and far superior to modern pieces both in respect to the mahogany, which is fast deteriorating nowadays, and the finish, for factory made goods can never equal the old handmade pieces."

"Well, I never!" ejaculated Mrs. Parvenue.

"You will want at least one handsome fireplace in your house. Allow me to show you our latest," interrupted her instructor as he led the way into an inner room.

"What! That shovel shaped arrangement!" she gasped.

"It is an exact representation of an ancient Venetian fireplace. You notice the hoodlike arrangement on which the coat of arms is embossed, the slender pillars and the broad seat running both right and left. This one is of oak stained green, and we think the effect is much heightened by the line of shallow niches which run the length of the seats. In each niche you will observe there is a small view of Venice done in different shades of green. The cushions are red and green mixed. We

Elmira, N. Y., Nov. 14.—Detective

Gradwell entered the office of Dr.

Frank P. Flood, mayor of the city, and placed the executive under arrest on a charge of forgery in the first degree, for which the penalty may be twenty years in state prison. Francis J. Mc-

Cann, in an affidavit, declares that he believes that three deeds were forged.

Catherine Loomie was indicted for prosecuting the first deed, and McCann declares that Mayor Flood committed one or more of the forgeries or caused one or more of the deeds mentioned to be forged. The mayor waived examination, and Judge Pratt fixed bail in the sum of $10,000, which was given.

The mayor's counsel asserts the prosecution is malicious on the part of political enemies. Miss Loomie, who was graduated at a convent at Notre Dame, Ind., is a cultured woman of

25. She alleges she met Dr. Flood nine years ago, when he attended her in illness. Her confession is that she fell in love with him, and they had been intimate ever since. The forged deed mentioned in the complaint was on Elmira property owned by Marg-ton, and valued at $8,000. Miss Kenedy is an orphan. In April last she came to Elmira to renew an insurance policy. The agent told her Catherine

Loomie had insured the same property.

The forged deed was on the records and Miss Loomie's arrest followed. She pleaded guilty Saturday and was sen-in the woman's prison at Auburn. She had raised $3,000 on the property,

No External Symptoms.

The blood may be in bad condition, yet with no external signs, no skin eruption or sores to indicate it. The symptoms in such cases being a variable appetite, poor digestion, an indescribable weakness and nervousness, loss of flesh and a general run-down condition of the system—clearly showing the blood has lost its nutritive qualities, has become thin and watery. It is in just such cases that S. S. S. has done some of its quickest and most effective work by building up the blood and supplying the elements lacking to make it strong and vigorous.

"My wife used several bottles of S. S. S. as a blood purifier and to tone up a weak and emaciated system, with very marked effect by way of improvement."

"We regard it a great tonic and blood purifier."—J. F. DUFF, Princeton, Mo.

is the greatest of all tonics, and you will find the appetite improves at once, strength returns, and nervousness vanishes as new rich pure blood once more circulates through all parts of the system.
